An Introduction to Literary Nonfiction - ThoughtCo

Creative nonfiction (also known as literary nonfiction or narrative nonfiction or verfabula) is a genre of writing that uses literary styles and techniques to create factually accurate narratives. Creative nonfiction contrasts with other nonfiction , such as academic or technical writing or journalism , which is also rooted in accurate fact but is not written to entertain based on prose style.

Creative nonfiction - Wikipedia

Literary nonfiction is a type of writing that tells the story of a true occurrence using creative language without embellishment of the facts. Documented facts, familiarity with the topic, a well-crafted sense of place, and literary prose must be present to constitute the form. The genre includes such varied subjects as travel writing, memoir, some true crime, essays, and nature writing.
